One

A placeholder to prove the layout.

This paragraph exists only to prove that the typesetting engine works: justified text, a first-line indent, and sensible leading on a 297 by 297 millimetre page.

A second paragraph follows, so the flow between paragraphs can be checked as well.

A stand-in image, captioned.

A section heading

More body copy to push the chapter onto a second page and show the running head and folio in place.

Two

Quotes get their own indented style.

— Someone

The final chapter closes the sample.
